A BRIEF HISTORY

More than a century ago, back in 1880 when Lebanon was still part of the Ottoman Empire, Lutfallah Manasseh, a merchant in Beirut, brought back after a long journey in Paris the prestigious luxury brands in the "art de la table". The purity of the Christofle engraved silver and glitter of Baccarat crystal have been later added to a range of brands launched by Lutfallah Manasseh. In 1935, Edouard Manasseh founds and establishes Ets. Manasseh & Co with exclusivity agreements for Christofle silverware, the crystals Lalique and Baccarat, Bernardaud's porcelain (Limoges), the confectioner Foucher and even the jeweler Boucheron.

In 1962, after the death of Edouard Manasseh, his wife Nadia, an accomplished businesswoman, takes over and later continues the tradition with her son Lutfallah in 1990.

Lutfallah brings a new life and modernization to the Company. He also creates wedding lists, updates all technology systems and inaugurates the boutique in Ashrafieh in 1995.

After he passed away in 2004, his two sisters, Michele Philippides and Claude Issa took over the business and opened a new boutique in the new district of Downtown Beirut. Michele Philippides has since been the CEO.

Firmly established in Ashrafieh, Downtown and Kaslik, the Ets. Manasseh are also present in major cities outskirts of the capital (Tripoli, Sidon and Broumana) through authorized retailers.

Today Ets. Manasseh are the exclusive representatives in Lebanon of:
Christofle, Baccarat, Bernardaud and Gien.
